1. About NED University

1.1 Overview

NED University of Engineering & Technology (NEDUET) is one of the oldest engineering institutions in Pakistan. It was established in March 1977 under an act of the Provincial Assembly of Sindh, after upgrading of the former NED Government Engineering College, which was originally set up in 1921. Prior to that, the D.J. Sindh College ran classes to train subordinates for the Sindh P.W.D., the Municipalities, and Local Boards. The university's Main Campus sits on University Road, Karachi, adjoining the University of Karachi.

1.2 History

On August 29, 1921, College Principal C.S. Shahani pushed to start Engineering Degree classes to meet the demand for Civil Engineers on the Sukkur Barrage project. The University of Bombay initially rejected the application over insufficient finance, insisting on entirely separate buildings and laboratories. After donations from the Puribai and Becharbai Trust, Vishandas Fatehchand Brothers, and a major Rs. 150,000 donation from the family of Mr. Nadirshaw Edulji Dinshaw, separate college buildings and laboratories were constructed.

The college was originally named the Prince of Wales Engineering College, later renamed in memory of Nadirshaw Edulji Dinshaw (NED). It received provisional affiliation from the University of Bombay on 23 May 1923 for first- and second-year Civil Engineering, with 78 students admitted in 1922; permanent affiliation followed in February 1927. The first full-time Principal was Mr. G.N. Gokhale (from 1 July 1923).

The college remained affiliated with the University of Bombay from 1922 to 1947, after which the Government of Sindh took it over, renaming it NED Government Engineering College and affiliating it with the University of Sindh. After the University of Karachi was established in 1951, affiliation transferred there. In 1975, with World Bank assistance (Rs. 118 million across two phases), the college relocated to its new 40-hectare Main Campus adjoining the University of Karachi. On 1 March 1977, it officially became NED University of Engineering and Technology.

From an enrolment of 50 students in 1923, the student population (UG and graduate) has grown to nearly 11,986. The Faculty of Bio-Medical Engineering is housed at the NED LEJ Campus, donated by philanthropist (Late) Latif Ebrahim Jamal (land and building valued at Rs. 350 million).

In October 2019, a constituent college was established at Mithi city, district Tharparkar, Sindh — the Thar Institute of Engineering, Sciences & Technology (TIEST) — about 350 km east of Karachi, to serve students in that region and build a workforce for the area's coal excavation and power generation industries. BS Computer Science launched in 2019, followed by Civil Engineering in 2021; Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, and Mining Engineering are planned.

Vice Chancellors in sequence: Mr. A.M. Akhoond (first VC), Prof. Dr. A.T. Khan, Prof. Dr. Jameel Ahmed Khan, Prof. Dr. M. Munir Hasan, Prof. Dr. A.Q. Qazi, Engr. Abul Kalam, Prof. Dr. M.
